think a person who gets announcements is obliged to send a gift. Could THIS case be the exception?
I belong to a large family. For almost 40 years I've been sending graduation gifts, wedding gifts, baby gifts, birthday and Christmas gifts to dozens and dozens of relatives. My youngest daughter was engaged two years ago. Her fiancé came home last month and they hurriedly decided to get married. There was no time for wedding invitations, so we sent announcements to sixty close relatives.
The young couple received ONE gift. We did not send announcements with the idea she would receive gifts. We just wanted people to know. What do you think of the small return?—HURT
Dear Hurt: If you sent the announcements merely to let people know, then you have accomplished your purpose. So why be hurt?

Are you tempted to smoke because the crowd does? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Smoking," enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.
Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In a Spirit of Sharing Vecinas Aids Yule Project For Indians

Approval of the major Las Vecinas Christmas philanthropic activity was announced by Mrs. Mel Heflinger, president, after the recent November meeting at which the membership decided to aid the Torrance YMCA in their annual Needy Navajo project. The definite need that exists to supply the destitute Indians, who live isolated from other tribal members because of their religion, received a warm-hearted response from the club, which each year at the holiday season accepts a philanthropic project outside the usual yearly activities.

Members, directed by Mrs. Donald Edwards, philanthropic chairman, will collect canned goods, warm clothing for all ages, and toys. The donations will be picked up on Thursday, Dec. 13, and delivered to the YMCA by volunteer drivers. They include Mmes. Marvyn Stolley, Herb Evans, Wallace Peterson, Robert Harlin, Leo Kline, E. R. Harvey, Norman Watson, and Charles Hopkins.

After delivery to the YMCA, volunteers from 180 youth clubs will load the materials on donated and rented trucks and drive to a remote part of the Navajo Reservation at Red Lake, Tonalea, Ariz. Dispersal is made at an annual Christmas party, one of the two occasions when the primitive Indians meet. The project serves approximately 5000 people, 2000 of whom are children, who are still living in primitive hogan in an arid, unproductive area which reaches zero temperatures in the winter time.

Started as a private project years ago by a local man, the need became too great, and was accepted by the YMCA as a service activity five years ago. The first drive filled one truck and trailer, but has since grown to accommodate five large trucks of the flat bed variety. In 1961, 16 tons of donations were received. Local college and high school students, and boys and girls of the YMCA, accept this project yearly as an opportunity to fulfill their need to serve as they devote a four-day period to helping their fellow man in the true spirit of Christmas.
